'I am always so amazed at how committed and engaged the ISGW volunteers are when they come to our office to volunteer. Volunteers support our mandate in so many ways and our lives are so enriched by their contribution.'

'Volunteers do not necessarily have the time; they just have the heart' This quote by Elizabeth Andrew is my favourite and one that resonates with me. ISGW is blessed to have a brilliant lot of volunteers who support our various programs and services and continue doing so whole-heartedly. A big shout out to all of you involved in the community!'

‘I used one-on-one conversation service when I was just a newcomer to Canada. With my knowledge of English at that time, I had so much difficulty making connections with society or even making friends. I was very lucky to have a nice, volunteer partner who was kindly giving me her experience in life and job. She let me get the most out of our conversations. I remember those days as learning and fun together. Thank you Volunteer’

'I only have words of gratitude to my 1-on-1 volunteer partner, a responsible, kind, educated and polite young man. I know in this fast-paced life, time is most valuable. My partner has been there for me at any moment. I also I would like to thank you guys for doing an amazing job by helping so many people like me. I can't express myself in words that fit exactly how happy I am to be here in this wonderful country. I told my wife and family several days ago that I couldn't imagine being anywhere else in the world in these difficult times and that it is because of ISGW and all the volunteers. Thank you very much; you are helping to change lives.'
